

Jake Reynolds is the manager of the Business Retention and Expansion division at the Idaho Department of Commerce. An Idaho native, Jake joined Idaho Commerce in January 2013 as an International Trade Specialist, and was promoted to Senior Trade Specialist in 2015. In his roles at Idaho Commerce, Jake has formed key relationships with a breadth of businesses and industry trade groups throughout the state. Prior to working at Idaho Commerce, Jake served as the domestic and international sales manager for In the Ditch, an advanced manufacturing company in Mountain Home. Jake also served as an agricultural manager of his family's farm, Carl F. Reynolds and Sons. Jake graduated from the University of Idaho with a Bachelor of Science degree in Marketing, and resides in Boise with his wife and two young children Owen and Charlee.